I am happy that my son is an SSCBS alumni

Guest Lectures, Mentoring students

I am very fortunate that my child got good practical education from this prestigious college and utilizing it in real world through campus placement. Thanks a lot always for building career of all students who are studying in your college.

I am afraid that I may not be able to help here due to my tight work schedule.

The college lived up to its repute and we are very happy that our ward completed his graduation from this college. I sincerely hope that my other child also gets an opportunity to be a part of this esteemed institution.

How can SSCBS, in your opinion, improve the recruitment process?	Would you recommend any certification course that should be undertaken and skills that should be developed by the students to make them more industry ready? The quality of the students have deteriorated significantly over the past few years. They are not prepared for the interview / process even after multiple communications. In my opinion, rather than just focusing on the students, the students should have more industry exposure. SSCBS really need to work on their students if they want to diverse profiles being offered to their students for both summer internships and full time placements.	Would you recommend any certification course that should be undertaken and skills that should be developed by the students to make them more industry ready?	Would you be interested in having the following collaborations with our institute in future?	Please mention any additional comments that you might have	Why do you hire our students? NA	Students can focus on improving analytical, problem solving skills & data analytics  Data science, advanced excel and consulting presentations	Some skill development in viz tools like Tableau, Alteryx would be helpful  Students could be trained to present more structured answers and thoughts, and give more crisp answers, to the point.
Everything is fine.	Some personality development workshops as well as public speaking Courses	NISM Certifications along with some stock market practical courses.
All good.		Nothing as such.
By preparing students better in understanding the Job Description and company profile	Not sure. They could work on their research skills, and attention to detail (we do not have any alumni working in our organization, hence the question above isn't valid for us, it should not be mandatory question, or should have an option)	Students can read more books to enhance their problem solving abilities. Case in Point by Marc P. Coentvoet can be a good start for a business ready mindset.
SSCS can make their process more de-centralized. It took a lot of time in the recruitment process with all the approvals coming in from third years. The process can be a lot more smoother if the guidelines are set more clearly and student coordinators have more authority. A recruiter's manual perhaps can also help.
No suggestions required. They were very organized on their own.		Students can read more books to enhance their problem solving abilities. Case in Point by Marc P. Coentvoet can be a good start for a business ready mindset.
As of now, a very smooth process. Maybe later we might suggest if anything is there	They can look for excel courses or any other online course related to their field
Impressed by the management and the student co-ordinator for being active throughout the process. Try to communicate with the students before hand about the company and the profile for which they are applying for and do take the consent in written from them on priority which will save time of everyone who are involved in the process.	Students need to improve their ability to plan/organise and how to prioritise work. To improve they can do PDCS course (Personality Development & Communication Skills). For reference do connect with Square Pvt Ltd (Mr Bhanu Rout 7008309844). Received good reviews from some companies.

Working Perfectly	Yes, Google Certification course, SHRM Course for HR Students
For future purposes, it will be great if candidates don't make the cut during the recruitment process, don't reach out to the hiring personnel, personally	No Certification course per se, just stay more updated with the startup space, if looking to break into the PEVC industry.
Students need a bit more clarity/confidence onto why they are applying to a certain field of subject and how that can help them achieve their goals.	In my opinion, I won't suggest any course but rather more events and extra curricular or seminars which will help them understand the functionality of the industry.

As of now all good.	Yes, after the completion of internship program, will give some tasks to the students, if they able to complete the tasks then will give them a certificate as well.
SSCBS has one of the best students from the University of Students. We at Peacock, would like to know more about the exact preferences of students for the profiles they want to work in so that a better and sustainable relationship can be forged.	Thanks!
By suggesting more candidates and actively involved in checking their monthly performance at the firm		Placements, Internships, Workshops	Intern that joined our company did not even complete the tasks as a boss for us when we train the candidate and then assign the tasks. Delighted to see the progress of our college in last two decades. Would recommend to keep the courses premium only and not expand too much. Further, enhancing the college website and its presence in other social media platforms would add in reaching out to further audience.

Visiting college as a speaker to address the students, Mentoring students on various professional aspects
Placement team can reach out to potential companies in advance to check if any specific topic or training may be organised to better prepare students for job profiles. I used to work at KPMG earlier and KPMG imparts free training to students in last trimester at MBA colleges and then holds interviews for hiring. This can help students to enrol for industry-ready programmes

Mentoring students on various professional aspects. Helping college in PR/social media/media coverage	I truly believe our institution is the best. However, the world doesn't know. There's still a lot of people around/from the industry who don't know SSCBS or confuse it with Shaheed Bhagat singh. That's a shame. I think we need to actively & heavily invest in marketing of the college - to reach out to as many people - and communicate the true value of SSCBS. 	While the college is already promoting entrepreneurship in students at SSCBS, I still feel that students can be more entrepreneurial and less job oriented which will make them employers instead of employees in the long run. A few ways to do this would be through courses on entrepreneurship (e.g., entrepreneurial finance), more business oriented student organizations rather than professionally oriented clubs, field visits to corporates and project tie ups with corporates.									17106

Hi

After receiving a positive response last year, CDC is once again initiating Project Prep-for-Success.

The project strives to bridge the gap between preceding placement season's placed students and third year students preparing for placements.

Under this project, groups of third year students sitting for placements will be put under the guidance of placed students from the previous placement season. The placed students are required to act as mentors and are expected to provide knowledge and assistance on placement interviews, case study rounds, resume building and other placement related queries.

We would be glad to seek your valuable support for the same.

Candidates interested for volunteering for the project are requested to fill the following form latest by 11 PM, 6th July 2022 (Wednesday): bit.ly/ProjectPrepforSuccess2022

In case of any queries, feel free to write in to cbspcell@sscbsdu.ac.in or contact:
