His research papers are published in refereed national and international journals. He is a life member of All India Commerce Association. He is currently pursuing a PhD in Social Entrepreneurship from the Department of Commerce, Delhi School of Economics, University of Delhi.

OBJECTIVE OF THE EVENT

The session was focused on What is entrepreneurship, what is entrepreneurial mind set and how we all have an entrepreneurial mindset. The speaker highlighted the importance of understanding the problem that user faces and empathizing with them.

Topics covered by Dr. Ramesh Kumar in the session:

- Problem identification techniques/tools
- Difference between entrepreneurship and entrepreneurial mindset.
- Key features of entrepreneurship
- Reason behind why entrepreneurship culture is still lacking.

- What kind of businesses are successful.
- Entrepreneurial journey
- Need of Entrepreneur
- Ideation techniques/tools
- Prototype techniques/tools

KEY OUTCOMES OF THE EVENT

Dr. Ramesh Barpa is a versatile speaker and that's quite evident from his ability to keep the group engaged throughout the session. The speaker highlighted that it is not necessary that one should be an entrepreneur or have a start-up to have an entrepreneurial mindset.

What are the key features of entrepreneurship.

The speaker shared his life experience and how he is connected to entrepreneurship.

The interactive session helped to clarify or to highlight the main reasons behind why the entrepreneurship culture is still lacking. The speaker helped the students to overcome those reasons.

The session also mentioned which businesses are most successful and at last the session ended with answering questions raised by students.
