MANTAVYA 2024 was the HR debate competition conducted as a part of Crescendo 2024 – the annual fest of SSCBS. The debate competition challenged the participants with an exclusive blend of analytical, problem-solving, presentation, and decision-making skills.

The Complete Competition was divided into 2 Rounds each round demanding and testing specific skill set from the participants.

1. Quiz Round:

The first round was an offline quiz testing your general knowledge across various topics and your specific understanding of Human Resources (HR). It likely included multiple choice or one word questions on current events, history, science, and geography.

2. Debate Round

The final round of the event was an HR-theme based debate round. The participants were given an HR dilemma and were to debate on the two possible alternatives for the same. The competition tested their ability to solve problems, think critically and analytically, work as a team, and improve their personal and professional skills. This competition was designed to provide a platform for students to showcase their skills and learn from each other.
