The aim of the campaign was to spread awareness about oral health among everyone and also inform them about how regulated dental checkups can help prevent any major problems and catch decay early. Therefore, NSS has taken the initiative to provide healthy smiles to students of Shaheed Sukhdev College of Business Studies.

During the campaign hours a speaker session was also held in order to enlighten the students about oral hygiene in an individual's life and our critical role in maintaining it. The session was attended by Dr. Adrita Nag, who is zonal clinic head at Clove Dental, expert dental diagnostician with over 20 years of experience having treated more than 4 lakh patients successfully.

Dental Check-up

A large number of students, nearly around 200, participated in it and got themselves checked up. As well as faculty and supporting staff showed interest and also got themselves checked up. The doctors firmly checked them, consulted them about various problems that can arise in the near future and suggested various measures that the students can take. The organisation offered various discounts on different services for the students for their treatment. They also gave free mouth cleaners to students who got themselves checked.
