OBJECTIVE OF THE EVENT

hackCBS 7.0, India's largest student-run hackathon and Asia Pacific's first MLH Member Hackathon, aimed to bring together innovators, coders, and developers to collaborate and create impactful solutions for real-world problems. The objective of hackCBS 7.0 was to continue its legacy as a hub for innovation and collaboration. It aimed to:

- Empower students globally to innovate and build impactful solutions.
 - Facilitate hands-on learning in cutting-edge technologies.
 - Provide a platform for networking with peers, mentors, and industry leaders.
 - Encourage participants to transform ideas into entrepreneurial opportunities while addressing real-world challenges.

KEY OUTCOMES OF THE EVENT

- Global Reach & Innovation: hackCBS 7.0 saw participation from different parts of India showcasing cutting-edge projects in AI, Web3, and blockchain that addressed real-world challenges.
- Learning & Skill Development: The event featured expert-led workshops and sessions, providing participants with valuable hands-on experience and skill enhancement.
- Partnerships & Opportunities: Strong sponsor collaborations, such as with Logitech and Vultr, boosted visibility, while the hackathon created recruitment pathways and industry exposure for participants.
- Participant Engagement: Drinks like Red Bull, Fresca and Coke, along with branded mugs and stickers, were distributed to participants, enhancing their overall event experience.
