SHAHEED SUKHDEV COLLEGE OF BUSINESS STUDIES

SEBI SMARTs Investor Awareness Program Financial Wellness & Careers in Capital Markets

The Financial Literacy Cell (FLC), Shaheed Sukhdev College of Business Studies, successfully organized a Workshop on Financial Wellness & Careers in Capital Markets under Opulentia'26 on 12th February 2026. The workshop aimed to enhance students' understanding of financial wellness, investment awareness, and the diverse career opportunities available within the capital markets ecosystem.

The session was conducted by Ms. Himani Lath, a SEBI SMART Trainer, SEBI Certified Financial Literacy Trainer, and former Senior Manager at NSDL with nearly two decades of experience in capital markets. Through an engaging and interactive session, she provided valuable insights into financial planning, investor awareness, capital market operations, and the skills required to build a successful career in the financial services industry.

Key Learnings from the Workshop

1. Understanding the importance of financial planning and the structured process of setting and achieving financial goals.
2. Learning how starting early can create a significant advantage in wealth creation through the power of compounding.
3. Understanding the principles of asset allocation and the factors influencing investment decisions, including risk tolerance, return expectations, and investment horizon.
4. Comparing different investment avenues such as fixed deposits, equities, mutual funds, gold, real estate, and government securities based on risk, liquidity, and returns.
5. Gaining practical insights into fundamental and technical analysis as tools for evaluating investment opportunities.
6. Understanding key financial metrics such as Return on Investment (ROI) and Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) for measuring investment performance.
7. Learning about the functioning of the stock market ecosystem, including trade settlement, contract notes, and investor rights.
8. Understanding concepts such as pledging of securities, counterparty guarantees, and the safeguards available to investors.
9. Gaining awareness of different categories of mutual funds and their suitability for varying financial objectives.
10. Learning about government securities and fixed-income instruments as investment options for conservative investors.
11. Developing an understanding of risk management and portfolio diversification to achieve long-term financial stability.

12. Exploring various career opportunities in capital markets and the skills required to build a successful career in the financial services industry.

The workshop witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various courses and academic years, with attendees actively engaging in discussions on financial planning, investing, and capital market operations. Through practical examples and real-world case studies, participants gained a comprehensive understanding of investment products, portfolio construction, market analysis, and investor protection mechanisms.

A special acknowledgement is due to the efforts of the Teacher-in-Charge, Dr. Paridhi, Dr. Raj Kumar and Mr. Tushar Marwaha, whose guidance and support played a crucial role in the successful execution of the event.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks to Ms. Himani Lath, SEBI SMART Trainer and SEBI Certified Financial Literacy Trainer, for sharing her extensive knowledge and industry experience. The workshop was highly appreciated by participants and successfully enhanced their understanding of financial wellness, capital markets, and investment decision-making. It further strengthened the Financial Literacy Cell's commitment to promoting financial literacy, investor awareness, and career readiness among students.
